

Enfocus CertifiedPDF² .net

CertifiedPDF.net is the ultimate tool for printers and publishers to effectively communicate PDF output requirements to designers and content creators for error-free print production. Document receivers publish their PDF specifications on CertifiedPDF.net for easy distribution to their customers.

The integration with Instant PDF 4 unveils CertifiedPDF.net's full potential. Document receivers publish Enfocus PDF Queues, which contain all the settings that control PDF quality, to CertifiedPDF.net directly from Instant PDF 4. Document creators import and subscribe to these PDF Queues from within Instant PDF 4, making them immediately available for use.

A newly introduced synchronization mechanism updates any changes to the PDF Queue, ensuring the most recent specification is always available.

Contributors to CertifiedPDF.net either create their own specification or link to an existing industry specifications published by associations and Enfocus. The grouping and sorting functionality ensures that even with multiple specifications for different production processes, customers can still find the necessary specification. Document receivers can also customize their contributor and specification detail pages to the look and feel of their web site for consistent corporate communication.
